Prospect City announced it has formed a sourcing relationship with RHR International, a premier global management consulting firm. Prospect City's team of professional researchers will support RHR's internal recruitment function by providing ongoing pipelines of talent for its offices in the US and Europe.

"Our firm is proud to serve such a reputable company. RHR is the premier resource in its industry and we hope we can impact their business through the identification and tracking of individuals in the talent marketplace" said Robert Stein, President of Prospect City. "With our help, we hope to improve our client's access to talent at a significantly lower cost than the other options the firm has explored."

Prospect City will provide an online database from which the client can manage their projects and pipelines, with Prospect City's team of researchers adding and assessing talent at the early stages of the recruitment process. Results are expected to provide a large pool of talent for tracking and significantly lower the cost-per-hire for the firm.

Prospect City is an infrastructure services provider to executive recruiting firms and corporate recruiting functions within large organizations. The company provides technology (database, VoIP phone systems, IM, websites and email) along with research, administration and accounting services to executive search firms.
